BATTLE OF BALLOTS BUT ONE DAY AWAY

With the city and county primary now a matter of but one or two days in the distance, politics has begun to boil. In the local campaign there has been very little mud-slinging, and the candidates have in the main prosecuted their claims for preferment to office in a dignified way that has not detracted from their merits.

The battle that will begin at an early hour tomorrow morning will not be in the nature of a fight between two political parties of differing faiths, but between candidates for places on the Democratic ticket. Whatever the outcome may be, no matter who wins, or loses, the winner and loser, like good fighters of the Democratic faith, will be up and doing when the common enemy comes against them in November. It will be "Atta, boy!" all along the line for the Democratic hosts, and woe to the Republican weak enough to imagine party success at the polls in November.

The fact that women can vote in the primary this year has complicated the situation for many candidates, and their announcements in the local papers show they have realized it. Some of the candidates have made appeals very pointedly toward the feminine vote and indicate that in many instances it is on the new voters they will hang their hopes of nomination.

In the campaign that is drawing to a close THE NEWS has consistently kept hands off, and has neither said or done anything to imperil the chances of any particular candidate. We want every good Democrat to go to the polls tomorrow morning, and vote as his or her conscience dictates, not as someone says. The candidates represent the best there is in the ranks of local Democracy, and win or lose, let's all do our duty tomorrow. On with the battle, and may the best men win!

THOUGHTS FOR YOUR CONSIDERATION.

Paris, Ky., August 4, 1921.
To the Citizens of Paris:

We are living in a progressive age, and towns, cities and municipalities, as well as individuals, must keep step with the progress or be relegated in the discard. It is not altogether what a candidate for office has done in the past, but whether he will show a spirit of progressiveness in the future.

I believe Paris is sadly in need of a progressive administration, one which will carefully study the needs of the city and the individual, and the best and most economical way to carry out those needs. The domination of political aspirants has for years kept Paris from taking her place among the foremost of Central Kentucky cities in progressiveness. Local history will substantiate that statement. Personal gain has sacrificed civic pride to such an extent that we today find ourselves in the rut of indifference. The day has almost arrived for an opportunity to remedy those conditions and it rests with the voters of Paris to see if our future aims shall be along the line of progression or retrogression.

I believe the pride of the women voters will go far towards giving Paris what she needs when they avail themselves of their late-given heritage to voice their sentiments in the matter. The first thing a woman does when she moves into her home is to begin a general house-cleaning and this is repeated as often as necessary. I believe that they will assist in giving Paris a house-cleaning on Saturday, August 6, realizing better than anyone to what an extent her home and its furnishings are damaged and ruined by the present condition of our streets. She observes it in her daily work. She well knows that such conditions should not exist and I believe she is going to see that steps are taken to eliminate the cause.

Another prevalent and principal cause of our retrogression is the non-enforcement of laws. Not that this is due to any scarcity of laws for we are surfeited with ordinances which have been passed, repassed and passed again, but the almost total disregard of them after they have become statutes. Who is to blame for this state of affairs? I make no accusation, but the Mayor of Paris, to which office I now aspire, takes a solemn and binding oath upon induction into office that he will see that the laws of the city are enforced to the best of his ability. I wish to place myself squarely on record now, that if I am honored by the citizens of Paris with this high office, I will stand firmly by that oath and will endeavor to the best of my ability to see that all laws are enforced upon each and everyone alike. I believe the vast majority of our citizens desire strict enforcement of our laws as they are fully cognizant that it is for their mutual advantage to have them enforced.

To place and keep Paris in the wide-awake position in which she belongs, I believe we need a Mayor who is young enough to be progressive, yet mature enough to be conservative as well. With those qualifications at hand I herewith submit my candidacy for your consideration, promising that you will have no cause for regret over placing me in that office. When co-operation is resolved into action, the result is Progress. Therefore, with your co-operation and assistance I hope to be elected Mayor of Paris and will bend all efforts towards placing Paris in a position to which we may point with pride as to her cleanliness, progressiveness and prosperity.

Respectfully,
JOHN MERRINGER.

WELCOME RAINS END A LONG DROUGHT.

The drought which has continued in this section of the State for nearly two months, during which time a few light showers fell, not doing much good, was broken by heavy rains which fell Tuesday night and early Wednesday morning, cooling the heated atmosphere, and bringing relief to plants, vegetation, and to humans and beasts as well.

The rains were general, covering a large scope of territory, and will be of great benefit to the growing crops, especially to the tobacco and late corn, and will help to revive the grass for fall pasturage.

COOPERATIVE TOBACCO MARKETING PLAN GAINING.

Spurred on by the big mass meeting held in Paris last Monday, when Hon. James N. Kehoe, of Maysville, addressed a large gathering at the court house, those in charge of the Cooperative Burley Tobacco Marketing plan are continuing their efforts in the county for membership and for signers to contracts under the marketing plan. IMPORTANT MATTERS FOR THE PRIMARY VOTERS.

Voters of the county should read the following rules before attempting to vote:

No Republican can vote, and no Democrat who didn't support the whole ticket last November can vote. The same qualifications as general election prevail otherwise; one must be a resident of the State one year, county six months and precinct sixty days, and be at least 21 years old at the time of voting.

There are women who are well known Democrats, of Democratic families, who expect to affiliate with the Democratic party, but who failed to vote last fall—some for lack of means to get to the polls, absence from home, sickness and other valid reasons. All such known to be of Democratic belief, are entitled to be voters in the primary.

There is an affidavit which voters must sign, if requested by election officers, stating that they are Democrats and have the other legal qualifications as stated heretofore. Any officer or challenger has a right to compel any voter to sign up before voting if they doubt his qualification.

No mixed tickets voted last fall entitles a voter to participate in a Democratic primary.

The law is very plain, short and simple. If you voted any ticket except straight Democratic last fall, you are not eligible to vote in August. If you did not vote in November for any good reason and if you are a Democrat, you are entitled to vote.

No one can vote by mail in the August primary. Absent voters vote by mail only in November elections. There is a penalty for voting when not entitled to; people not entitled to vote must not vote in this Primary.

HO' FOR PITTSBURG.

Tuesday, August 23 is the date set for that delightful Ohio Valley excursion, from Cincinnati to Pittsburgh and return, one thousand miles by river. This is by far the best and cheapest outing to be thought of. Make up your mind and see me at once. The list is fast filling up. Only a limited number taken. For further information see.

S. E. BORLAND.

BASE BALL NOTES.

What will probably be a game that will warm the cockles of the heart will be the one to be played at Cynthiana, Sunday afternoon, when the Paris Ruglges team will meet the crack Cynthiana team. Paris will present the following line-up: Camparioni, p; Carter, c; Barnett, 1b; Woods, 2b; Mann, 3b; Brewsaugh, s; Burnett, lf; Burnett, cf; McFarland, of; Cynthiana won from the Winchester Hustlers last Saturday on the latter grounds by the narrow margin of 7 to 6. Sunday they lost to Maysville by a score of 9 to 4. An interesting game is anticipated, as this will be the first time in many years since a Paris team has played in Cynthiana.

From indications one of the largest crowds that has gone from Paris to a ball game in an adjoining town in many years will accompany the Paris team to Cynthiana Sunday to root for the home team, and help Camparioni, Carter and the rest of the Paris ball-tossers put it over the Cynthiana team. Make it a point to see this game, and help the local boys to top the hole by a safe score.

The Paris and Cynthiana colored teams played on the Cynthiana grounds Sunday afternoon, Paris taking the long end of a 6 to 1 score.

FOR RE-ELECTION

VOTE FOR E. B. JANUARY FOR MAYOR OF PARIS.

THERE'S A REASON

VOTE FOR R. ED. BEDFORD FOR SHERIFF. THERE'S A REASON. HE IS ASKING THE PEOPLE OF BOURBON COUNTY AND NOT THE CLIQUE THAT WANTS TO CONTROL THE POLICIES OF OUR COUNTY.

TATUM CHANGES PLACES

Clifton P. Tatum well-known paper salesman, who has been traveling in this territory for the Louisville Paper Company announces that, beginning yesterday, he had changer houses and will, in the future, be traveling salesman for the Chatfield & Woods Paper Company, of Cincinnati. He will have Western Kentucky as his territory.

TO THE DEMOCRATIC VOTERS OF BOURBON COUNTY:

In a card issued to-day by my opponent, Mr. Bedford, he would have you believe that there was no justification for my card issued as "a warning to Democratic voters of Bourbon County"

The truth of the matter is, as many of you know, that from the very beginning of the campaign much has been said and done against my ticket and in favor of our opponents, by other persons interested in his campaign, which we hope that Mr. Bedford has neither inspired nor encouraged.

We have been classed as the candidates of a clique seeking to dominate the policies of the county. It has been said of me that if elected I would refuse to permit the examination of the books of my predecessor, a statement so absolutely false and ridiculous that it should be an insult to your intelligence. The books of the Sheriff are public records and no man has the right or power to prevent their examination. They have recently been examined by expert accountants, the shortage ascertained and every dollar with interest must be repaid.

A great deal has been said about bonding deputies, which is only "mud-slinging" in an indirect way, intended to prejudice you against some of my supporters and indirectly against me. I certainly approve of the bonding of all officials, but as the bonding of the Deputy Sheriff is only a protection to the Sheriff I certainly do not feel that because Mr. McClintock was willing to trust his deputies without bond is grounds for asking you to vote against me.

Efforts have been made and are still being made to array labor against me by circulating lies to the effect that I am against the laboring man. My record will show that no man has been more willing to render all the assistance possible to the man who works, whether he be of the organized or unorganized class. I have never countenanced unfairness from either employer or employee, and the honest, intelligent workman of to-day asks only fair play.

Attempts have been made to discredit my services on the school board, a service which I have given without one cent of compensation, and against which I challenge any man the right to utter one word of deserved criticism.

Statements have been made that I would not attend to the office if elected, but had already made promises of employment to others, all of which is absolutely false.

In issuing my warning I did not mention Mr. Bedford, but only referred to "those opposing my nomination," and while I am reliably informed that Mr. Bedford himself has used as one of his arguments to secure votes, some absolutely false and ungentlemanly statements regarding my deputy, Mr. Gilkey, I hope I have been misinformed and that he has not been a party to or given his consent to the above mentioned lies.

In conclusion I desire to state that this is the first time I have ever offered for public office. If elected I will do my duty as I see it. If defeated I will bow to the will of the people and cast my vote for their choice in November.

Respectfully,
M. PEALE COLLIER.
